MAXIMUM TAX NOT SUFFICIENT TO PAY LOSSES

Unless Way Out Is Found,
Farmers Will Receive
About 81 Cents on the Dollar

REMEDIES SUGGESTED

Favorable Interpretation of Law or Special Session of Legislature Suggested

"The hail tax for 1923 will be 50 cents an acre for $7.00 per acre production and 21 cents an acre for $3.00 additional insurance," says an announcement by Martin Hagen, manager of the state hail insurance department today. "This is the maximum as provided by Section 7 of the Hail Law. Even if the maximum is levied it will be seen that the total tax will not be sufficient to pay all the indemnity in full, and unless some way can be found, it evidently will be necessary to prorata the indemnity."

The hail losses for 1923 totalled 25,630 and exceeded any other year in the history of the department. The insured acreage decreased from 1922 about 15 percent, or 1,439,000 acres.

The total indemnity is $4,658,381.72.

The tax of 50 cents an acre on $7.00 an acre insurance and 21 cents an acre on $3.00 an acre additional insurance will amount to $3,945,935.92.

It may be necessary to prorata the indemnity, paying persons who suffered hail losses 81 percent of their insurance award.

May Pay 81 Percent

"The total indemnity plus other necessary items to be considered in the levy equals some $4,644,381.72," said Mr. Hagen. "It will therefore be seen that only 81 percent of the indemnity can be paid unless it is found that part of the accumulated surplus from sources other than the flat tax, which had accrued prior to July 1, 1923 might properly be used to pay part of the losses this year. It is more than likely that such interpretation might be put on the provisions of the law pertaining to the surplus fund, and if so, no prorating of losses will be necessary. If, however, that may not be done, the only other possible remedy, as the Department sees it, will be for the Governor to call a special session of the legislature for the purpose of amending the hail law to the effect that $300,000 of the $2,000,000 in the surplus fund may be either used to pay part of the losses this year, or be repaid when possible in the future. Since the hail insurance surplus contains over one million dollars accrued from other sources than the flat tax, it would seem advisable to use such money to pay the farmers their losses in full instead of prorating the indemnity, especially this year, when prices on farm products in general are so low as to make very small if any profit for the farmer."

Mr. Hagen stated that the Commissioner of Insurance and the Industrial Commission are negotiating with financial concerns relative to the sale of hail department securities in order that warrants may be paid in full and promptly immediately after December 1. He said that he believed a deal would be made whereby the state treasurer will be able to call all warrants for payment by New Year's. This year, he said, interest on securities will be borne by the hail department, so that discount of warrants will be unnecessary.

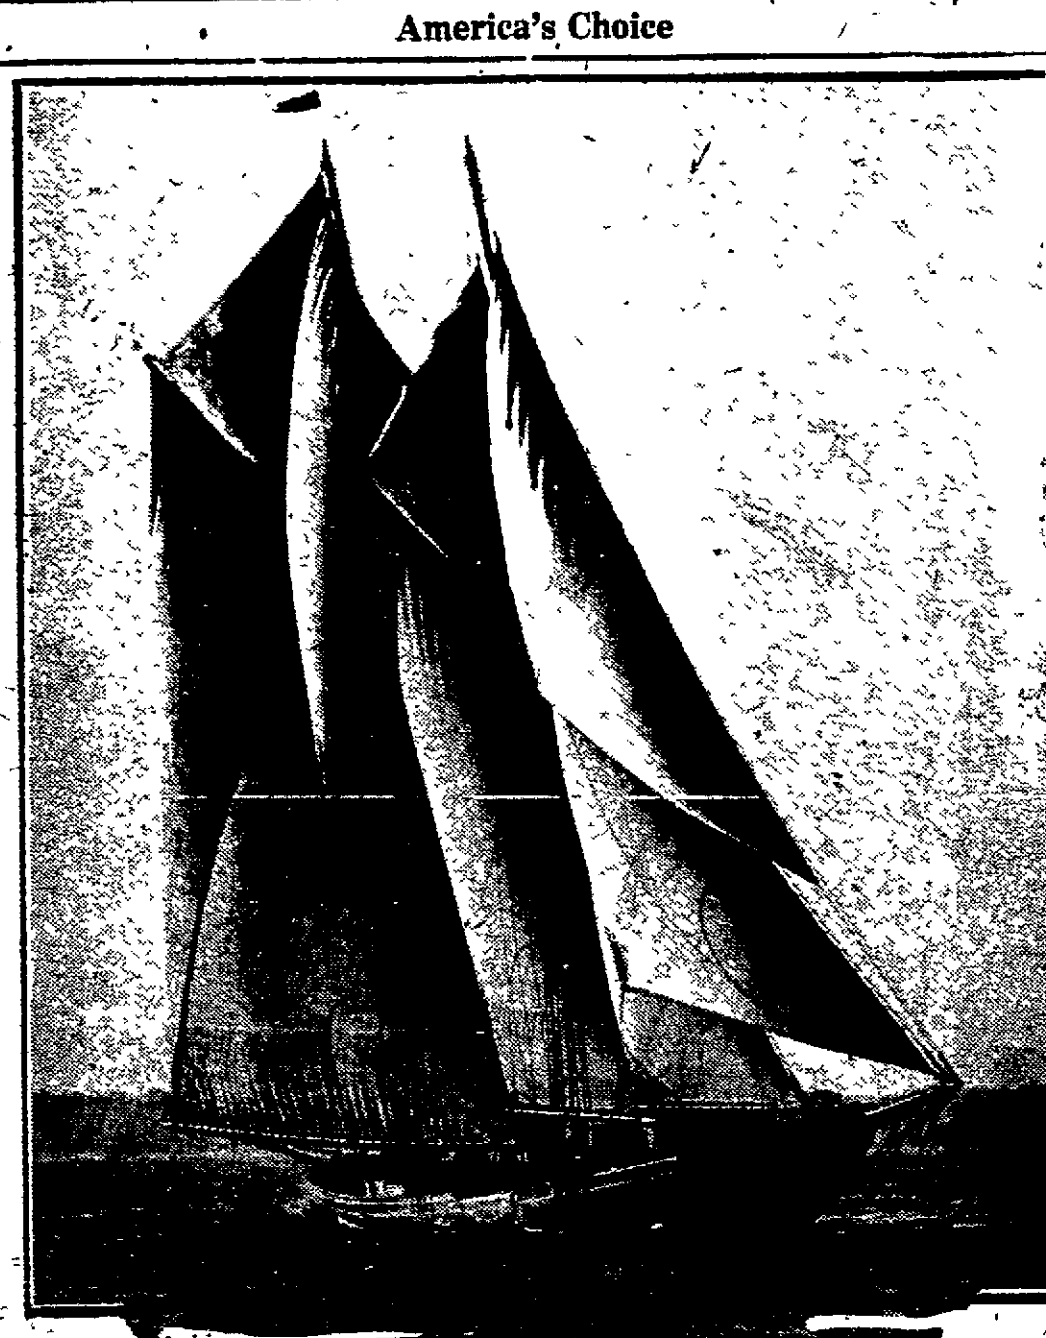

The year 1923, Mr. Hagen said, is a record breaker in hail losses, except in the year 1916 when the losses were greater. He said that in 1919 the losses numbered a little over 12,000, for 1920 about 14,000, for 1921, 21,000 and in 1922 a little over 18,000. He said that reports from private insurance agencies were to the effect that the 1923 hail losses are the greatest in years, and that several companies had retired from the Canadian field because of unfavorable experience.

"Dope" Upset

The "dope" was upset, Mr. Hagen said. "It has hailed repeatedly in sections where hail was not expected," he said. "The experience has been turned upside down. Localities regarded as more or less immune have yielded the companies disastrous results. The dope sheets of the past have been worthless as a guide for this year. The shrewdest and keenest underwriters in the business show for 1923 just about the same experience that the companies which have not made a particular study of the hail business are able to exhibit."

Commissioner of Insurance Olmstead declared that the state hail department is confronted with a serious situation.

CROSS-NATION TRAIL CHANGE IS ASKED HERE

Glendive Proposal for Rerouting of Yellowstone Trail is Heartily Ap-

COMES FROM SO. DAK.

Members of the good roads committee of the Association of Commerce and other citizens, in meeting here last night with members of the Glendive Chamber of Commerce, adopted a resolution to ask the Yellowstone National Trail association to re-route the highway so that it will pass through Bismarck and western North Dakota.

The Glendive delegation, which originated the plan, stopped in Mandan before coming to Bismarck and a similar resolution was adopted. Several Mandan men accompanied the delegation to Bismarck.

The proposal is that the Yellowstone trans-continental highway, instead of continuing through South Dakota after leaving Aberdeen or Ipswich, will come north to Bismarck or vicinity and thence go west through Dickinson, Glendive and other towns, striking the present Yellowstone Trail again.

Many motorists, it is said, express dissatisfaction with the long trip through northwestern South Dakota over the Yellowstone, there being a strip of about 300 miles where, according to members of the Glendive delegation, there is no town of any size. There is not the possibility of improving the road through the territory nor of motorists obtaining needed service.

Another strong objection voiced by tourists on the Yellowstone trail is that they must use the ferry over the Missouri at Moberg. Accidents at the ferry there have been sufficient to cause many people to choose a different route. The big Missouri river bridge at Bismarck, the local people were informed, is the strongest single argument for moving the trail.

Marmarth Boy Killed Hunting

Marmarth, N. D., Oct. 25.—Bud Cornell, Jr., 18 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Cornell, Sr., of Marmarth, was instantly killed yesterday by his school coach, Arthur Knutson, 17, while hunting ducks in a boat on the Marmarth reservoir. Both boys were seated, Cornell in front and both facing the prow, when ducks arose from the water. Knutson aimed and as he pulled the trigger, Cornell arose to his feet in direct line with the gun, the discharge shooting away the upper portion of Cornell's skull. Death was instantaneous.

Knutson has been exonerated from blame for the accident.

DAN M'DONALD HERD BEST IN MONTH'S TEST

Leads Burleigh County Cow
Testing Association for Month of September

Dan McDonald had the high average herd of the Burleigh County Cow Testing association for the month of September, according to the test report made today by Albert Zenzell, tester. Mr. McDonald also had the best individual cow production, while Presley Gosney owns the second highest herd.

There were 212 cows tested, daily record being kept. The total amount of milk produced was 92,023 pounds and the total amount of butter fat, 3,764 pounds. The average per cow for the month was 434 pounds of milk and 17.75 pounds of butter-fat. The high average herd of McDonald produced 23.1 pound butter-fat, each, nearly six pounds above the average. The second highest, that of Presley Gosney, was 22.9 pounds butter-fat for each cow. The highest producing cow, owned by Mr. McDonald, produced 48.7 pounds butter-fat and 1.188 pounds of milk.

Other herds are showing gradual improvement in production, it was stated by Mr. Zenzell.

North Dakota All Right, and Northwest Is Going to Come
Strong, Elliott Says

OFFICIALS IN CITY

Northern Pacific Officials
Visit Governor, Are Entertained by Business Men

"North Dakota is going to come out all right," was the confident assertion of Howard Elliott, former president and now chairman of the board of directors of the Northern Pacific Railroad, as he and his party of officials was in the city for four hours last yesterday. Mr. Elliott has an intimate knowledge of the development of the Northwest from his part in it while president of the Northern Pacific, and his close study since he returned to the road as chairman of the board of directors. He has lost none of his confidence in the section.

"The fact that North Dakota has had a little trouble with wheat will direct energy toward diversified farming," he said. "Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska all went through the same experience with wheat farming. They found it better to go out into dairying, corn raising and other products and when North Dakota does that it will help tremendously."

Mr. Elliott, who is not prone to give advice and declines comment upon many questions of national railroad policy, believes that in addition to diversified farming there are three things that will aid greatly in the development of the Northwest. They are: save money, keep down taxes and work hard—especially work hard.

A Great Country
"I am much pleased with my trip," he said, being on his return from a two weeks inspection trip from St. Paul to the Pacific Coast. The party left St. Paul October 5. "I do not feel at all pessimistic over the Northwest country—it is a great country and will come out all right," he added.

Mr. Elliott said that the Northern Pacific was keenly interested in immigration. A big campaign was carried out by the railroad during the past year in the east to induce people to come to the Northwest, he said. The intention, he said, is to go on, because the railroad officials believe in North Dakota and believe in the Northern Pacific, however, he said, it is in the same boat as the farmer.

"I find the railroad in good shape, the facilities excellent and plenty of cars," he said. "We have a good road now. We have no plans for spending any money except for necessary maintenance. We are like the farmer—we must husband our resources. Our expenditures will be more year in year out and we do not need to extend them because we have a splendid railroad and are doing a good business."

Regarding labor conditions on the road Mr. Elliott said "I find a good spirit, and loyal support to the country and the road. We have a fine body of men on the Northern Pacific."

The officials party headed by Mr. Elliott included J. M. Hannaford, vice-chairman, St. Paul; Charles E. Perkins, director, Burlington, Iowa; J. M. Rapjevie, vice-president, St. Paul; A. M. Burt, assistant vice-president, St. Paul; H. E. Stevens, chief engineer, St. Paul; E. A. Gay, secretary and treasurer, New York. At each division point division officials joined the train. Superintendent W. E. Berner and Master Mechanic D. S. Littlehales of Jamestown joined the party at Mandan. The special train arrived in Bismarck shortly after four o'clock and left about four hours later.

No Joy Ride
The inspection trip of a railroad executive is no joy ride, as was indicated by the manner in which the special cars were fitted. There was a conference table, stenographers, desks and every other facility of an office. The party traveled every day, and during the day time the officials were constantly inspecting the road bed and equipment and discussing conditions with local officials. As nearly every station a good sized mailbag was put on the train, and since the officials were occupied with other things during the city time at night they attended to their correspondence. One of the stenographers on the train said it was up at 6 a. m. and to bed at midnight, and work most of the time.

President W. H. Webb of the Association of Commerce, Capt. L. P. Baker, a personal friend of Mr. Elliott, other business men of the city met the city. Mr. Elliott and his party called on Governor Nestos for a short chat. All of them expressed pleasure at the progress Bismarck had made.

NEW HAY FEVER CURE PROMISED

Chicago, Oct. 25.—A million Americans wheeze and sneeze with asthma and hay fever are promised relief and permanent cures in a new method of treatment being considered at the convention of the American College of Surgeons.

Asthma and hay fever are due to local infection, a new method claims. Infection at the root of the teeth, in the nose or an internal organ may be responsible for the sneezing and gasping that annually sends thousands to various climates seeking relief.

Medicinal treatment or operation removes the cause of the troubles, surgeons stated.

7 CHARGES APPROVED

Supreme Court Hears Writ to Bar Walton from Interference With Office

Oklahoma City, Oct. 25.—The eighth charge in the bill of impeachment against Governor J. C. Walton was voted today by the Oklahoma House when it approved, 77 to 14, article 8 of 14. The committee reports, according to the executive of declaring martial law in Tulsa "when no cause, reason or ground existed therefor."

Oklahoma City, Oct. 25.—A dozen or more house members formally attacked Representative Callahan, smashed a chair and threw Callahan out of the room when he declared in a bitter arraignment of the Ku Klux Klan just before noon recess of the Oklahoma House that N. C. Jewett, grand dragon of the Oklahoma realm of the Klan, was dictating the kind of legislation to be enacted in Oklahoma.

Callahan's word hardly fell in the house chamber before one member shouted "That's a black lie."

One member sprang at Callahan's throat and both fell in a struggle. Twelve or fifteen members rushed toward Callahan, most of them endeavoring to place their hands on him. The sergeant-at-arms, and virtually all other members of the house rushed to the "corner" where the attack was taking place. Clenching fists were waving in the air when Callahan was fiercely ejected from the chamber. Callahan stood guarded by two members after the sergeant-at-arms had ordered other members back.

Callahan's attack followed long argument whether the house should vote impeachment of Gov. Walton on article 10, which concerned his declaration of martial law in Tulsa.

Callahan said that 90 percent of the jury commissioners in the state were members of the Ku Klux Klan. "The people in this state have been tried in secret before they reached the courtroom," Callahan declared.

"Do you know that 90 percent of the Oklahoma jury commissioners are members of the Klan," one member asked.

"Yes I know it," Callahan replied. "I have stated how Gov. Walton declared war on the Ku Klux Klan and how Grand Dragon Jewett, the most immediately denied the executive to overthrow the Ku Klux Klan. "This same Mr. Jewett," asserted Callahan, waving his arms and vigorously shaking his head, is dictating the kind of legislation to be enacted by this body. He—

Here Rep. Callahan was interrupted by shouts from all over the house chamber and the members sprang on him.

The force of the attack knocked Callahan into the chair behind him, crushed it and two legislators went to the floor, surrounded almost immediately by groups of the indignant house members.

Oklahoma City, Oct. 25.—Governor J. C. Walton faced possible criminal prosecution for alleged official misdeeds as he turned today with his back to the wall to stem the tide of impeachment already enveloping him.

Ringing in his ears was the announcement of a legislative investigating committee that it would present to a grand jury all of the impeachment accusations against him; and while the executive awaited the outcome of his court challenge of its authority to suspend him from office the upper house of the legislature, holding its first meeting as a court of impeachment, prepared to set in action the machinery for its trial.

Having already approved seven of the 22 charges contained in the committee report and forwarded them to the senate as separate bills of impeachment the lower house went into session today to consider the remaining counts of the indictment. Observers considered it as significant that but seven out of the 104 members of the house have voted consistently against acceptance of the charges. In each case the majority for adoption has been overwhelming.

Court Hears Writ
The state supreme court this afternoon heard an application to make permanent a writ of prohibition restraining Governor Walton from interfering with Lieut. Gov. E. M. Trapp as acting Governor. The writ was granted yesterday after the Governor refused to relinquish the Governor's chair under the provisions of the senate resolution which suspended him pending the impeachment proceedings obtained an injunction barring Lieut. Gov. Trapp from the office.

SOLOON IS CRUSHED IN FIST FIGHT

STATE HAIL FUND HARD HIT BY BIG LOSSES

MAXIMUM TAX NOT SUFFICIENT TO PAY LOSSES

Unless Way Out Is Found, Farmers Will Receive About 81 Cents on the Dollar

REMEDIES SUGGESTED

Favorable Interpretation of Law or Special Session of Legislature Suggested

"The hail tax for 1923 will be 50 cents an acre for $7.00 per acre protection and 21 cents an acre for $3.00 additional insurance," says an announcement by Martin Hagen, manager of the state hail insurance department today. "This is the maximum as provided by Section 7 of the Hail Law. Even if the maximum is levied it will be seen that the total tax will not be sufficient to pay all the indemnity in full, and unless some way can be found, it evidently will be necessary to prorrate the indemnity."

The hail losses for 1923 totaled 25,630 and exceeded any other year in the history of the department. The insured acreage decreased from 1922 about 15 percent, or 1,439,000 acres.

The total indemnity is $4,688,381.72.

The tax of 50 cents an acre on $7.00 an acre insurance and 21 cents an acre on $3.00 an acre additional insurance will amount to $3,945,983.92.

It may be necessary to prorrate the indemnity, paying persons who suffered hail losses 81 percent of their insurance award.

May Pay 81 Percent

"The total indemnity exceeds other necessary items to be considered in the levy equals some $4,844,381.72," said Mr. Hagen. "It will therefore be seen that only 81 percent of the indemnity can be paid unless it is found that part of the accumulated surplus from sources other than the flat tax, which had accrued prior to July 1, 1923 might properly be used to pay part of the losses this year. It is more than likely that such interpretation might be put on the provisions of the law pertaining to the surplus fund, and if so, no prorating of losses will be necessary. If, however, that may not be done, the only other possible remedy, as the Department sees it, will be for the Governor to call a special session of the legislature for the purpose of amending the hail law to the effect that $900,000 of the $2,909,000 in the surplus fund may be either used outright or be borrowed from the fund to be repaid when possible in the future. Since the hail insurance surplus contains over one million dollars accrued from other sources than the flat tax, it would seem advisable to use such money to pay the farmers their losses in full instead of prorating the indemnity, especially this year, when prices on farm products in general are so low as to make very small if any profit for the farmer."

Mr. Hagen stated that the Commissioner of Insurance and the Industrial Commission are negotiating with financial concerns relative to the sale of hail department securities in order that warrants may be paid in full and promptly immediately after December 1. He said that he believed a deal would be made whereby the state treasurer will be able to call all warrants for payment by New Year's day.

This year, he said, interest on securities will be borne by the hail department, so that discount of warrants will be unnecessary.

The year 1923, Mr. Hagen said, is a record breaker in hail losses, except in the year 1916 when the losses were greater. He said that in 1919 the losses numbered a little over 12,000, for 1920 about 14,000, for 1921, 21,000 and in 1922 a little over 18,000. He said that reports from private insurance agencies were to the effect that the 1923 hail losses are the greatest in years, and that several companies would retire from the Canadian field because of unfavorable experience.

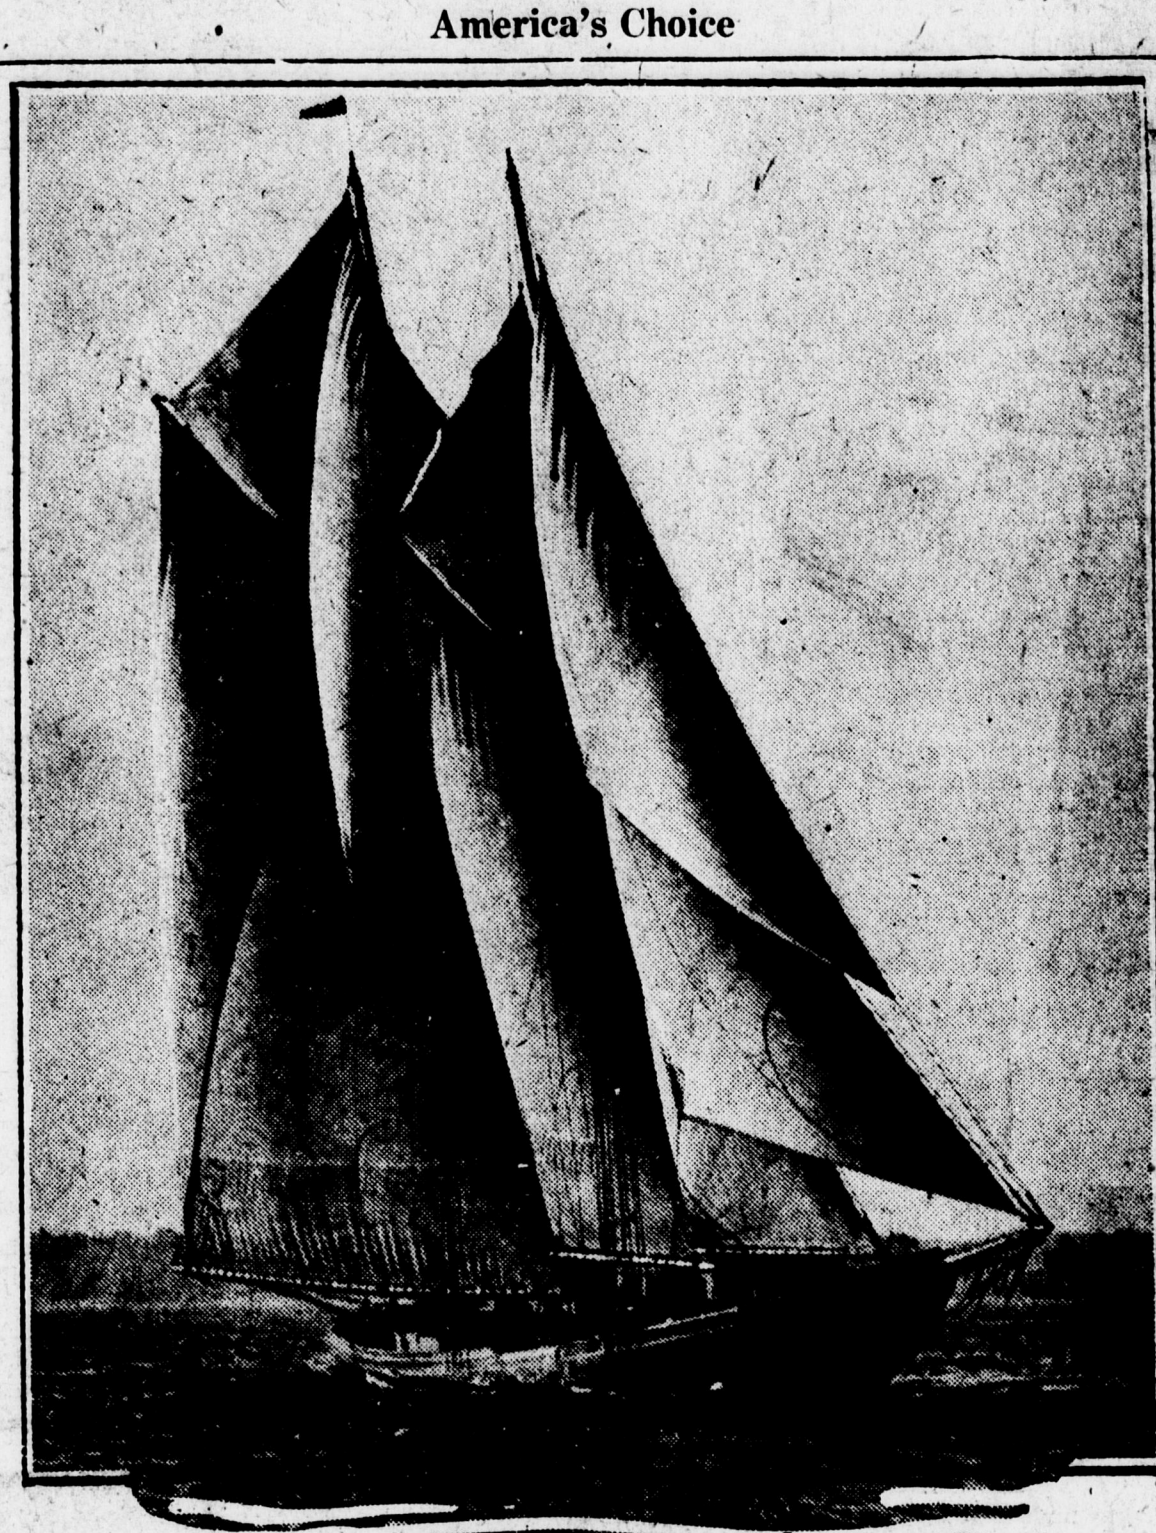

"Dope" Upset

The "dope" was upset, Mr. Hagen said.

"It has hailed repeatedly in sections where hail was not expected," he said. "The experience has been turned upside down. Localities regarded as more or less immune have yielded the companies disastrous results. The dope sheets of the past have been worthless as a guide for this year. The shrewdest and keenest underwriters in the business show for 1923 just about the same experience that the companies which have not made a particular study of the hail business are able to exhibit."

Commissioner of Insurance Olinnes declared that the state hail department is confronted with a serious situation.

Glendive Proposal for Re-Routing of Yellowstone Trail Is Heartily Approved

COMES FROM SO. DAK.

Members of the good roads committee of the Association of Commerce and other citizens, in meeting here last night with members of the Glendive Chamber of Commerce, adopted a resolution to ask the Yellowstone National Trail association to re-route the highway so that it will pass through Bismarck and western North Dakota.

The Glendive delegation, which originated the plan, stopped in Mandan before coming to Bismarck and a similar resolution was adopted. Several Mandan men accompanied the delegation to Bismarck.

The proposal is that the Yellowstone trans-continental highway, instead of continuing through South Dakota after leaving Aberdeen or Ipswich, will come north to Bismarck or vicinity and thence go west through Dickinson, Glendive and other towns, striking the present Yellowstone Trail again.

Many motorists, it is said, express dissatisfaction with the long trip through northwestern South Dakota over the Yellowstone, there being a strip of about 300 miles where, according to members of the Glendive delegation, there is no town of any size. There is not the possibility of improving the road through the territory nor of motorists obtaining needed service.

Another strong objection voiced by tourists on the Yellowstone trail is that they must use the ferry over the Missouri at Moberly. Accidents at the ferry there have been sufficient to cause many people to choose a different route. The big Missouri river bridge at Bismarck, the local people were informed, is the strongest single argument for moving the trail.

The distance on the re-routed trail would be but a few miles, perhaps 20 or 25 longer, than the present.

President Webb of the A. of C. of Bismarck and John F. Murphy, president of the Glendive Chamber of Commerce, briefly explained the plan.

Marmarth Boy Killed Hunting

Marmarth, N. D., Oct. 25.—Bud Cornell, Jr., 16 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Cornell, Sr., of Marmarth, was instantly killed yesterday by his school chum, Arthur Knutson, 17, while hunting ducks in a boat on the Marmarth reservoir. Both boys were seated, Cornell in front and both facing the prow, when ducks arose from the water. Knutson aimed and he pulled the trigger. Cornell arose to his feet in direct line with the gun, the discharge shooting away the upper portion of Cornell's skull. Death was instantaneous.

Knutson has been exonerated from blame for the accident.

DAN M'DONALD HERD BEST IN MONTH'S TEST

Leads Burleigh County Cow Testing Association for Month of September

Dan McDonald had the high average herd of the Burleigh County Cow Testing association for the month of September, according to the test report made today by Albert Zenzell, tester. Mr. McDonald also had the best individual cow production, while Presley Gosney owns the second highest herd.

There were 212 cows tested, daily record being kept. The total amount of milk produced was 92,023 pounds and the total amount of butter fat, 3,764 pounds. The average per cow for the month was 434 pounds of milk and 17.75 pounds of butter-fat. The high average herd of McDonald produced 23.1 pounds butter-fat, each, nearly six pounds above the average. The second highest, that of Presley Gosney, was 22.9 pounds butter-fat for each cow. The highest producing cow owned by Mr. McDonald, produced 48.7 pounds butter-fat and 1,188 pounds of milk.

Other herds are showing gradual improvement in production, it was stated by Mr. Zenzell.

NO JOY RIDE

The inspection trip of a railroad executive is no joy ride, as was indicated by the manner in which the special cars were fitted. There was a conference table, stenographer, desks and every other facility of an office. The party traveled every day and during the day time the officials were constantly inspecting the road bed and equipment and discussing conditions with local officials. At nearly every station a good sized mailbag was put on the train, and since the officials were occupied with other things during the city time at night they attended to their correspondence. One of the stenographers on the train said it was up at 6 a. m. and to bed at midnight, and work most of the time.

President W. H. Webb of the Association of Commerce, Capt. I. P. Baker, a personal friend of Mr. Elliott, of long standing, and a number of other business men of the city met the visitors and drove them to the city. Mr. Elliott and his party called on Governor Nestor for a short chat. All of them expressed pleasure at the progress Bismarck had made.

CHAIRMAN OF N.P. SEES MUCH GOOD IN TRIP

North Dakota All Right, and Northwest Is Going to Come Strong, Elliott Says

OFFICIALS IN CITY

Northern Pacific Officials Visit Governor, Are Entertained by Business Men

"North Dakota is going to come out all right," was the confident assertion of Howard Elliott, former president and now chairman of the board of directors of the Northern Pacific Railroad, to a representative of The Tribune while he and his party of officials was in the city for four hours last yesterday. Mr. Elliott has an intimate knowledge of the development of the Northwest from his part in it while president of the Northern Pacific, and his close study since he returned to the road as chairman of the board of directors. He has lost none of his confidence in the section.

"The fact that North Dakota has had a little trouble with wheat and direct energies toward diversified farming," he said. "Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska all went through the same experience with wheat farming. They found it better to go out into dairying, corn raising and other products, and when North Dakota does that it will help tremendously."

Mr. Elliott, who is not prone to give advice and declined comment upon many questions of national railroad policy, does believe that in addition to diversified farming there are three things that will aid greatly in the development of the Northwest. They are: save money, keep down taxes and work hard—especially work hard.

A Great Country

"I am much pleased with my trip," he said, being on his return from a two weeks inspection trip from St. Paul to the Pacific Coast. The party left St. Paul October 8. "I do not feel at all pessimistic over the Northwest country—it is a great country and will come out all right," he added.

Mr. Elliott said that the Northern Pacific was keenly interested in immigration. A big campaign was carried out by the railroad during the past year in the east to induce people to come to the Northwest, he said. The intention, he said, is to go on, because the railroad officials believe in the Northwest and believe in North Dakota.

The Northern Pacific, however, he said, is in the same boat as the farmer.

"I find the railroad in good shape, the facilities excellent and plenty of cars," he said. "We have a good road now. We have no plans for spending any money except for necessary maintenance. We are like the farmer—we must husband our resources. Our expenditures this next year in every direction will be moderate. We do not need to extend greatly because we have a splendid railroad and are doing a good business."

Regarding labor conditions on the road Mr. Elliott said "I find a good spirit, and loyal support to the country and the road. We have a fine body of men on the Northern Pacific."

The official party headed by Mr. Elliott included J. M. Hannaford, vice-chairman, St. Paul; Charles E. Perkins, director, Burlington, Iowa; J. M. Rapelle, vice-president, St. Paul; A. M. Burt, assistant vice-president, St. Paul; H. E. Stevens, Secretary and Treasurer, New York. At each division point division officials joined the train. Superintendent W. E. Berner and Master Mechanic D. S. Littlehales of Jamestown joined the party at Mandan. The special train arrived in Bismarck shortly after four o'clock and left about four hours later.

London, Oct. 25.—A Central News dispatch received from Berlin shortly after 3 o'clock this afternoon says large bands of communists are marching on the German capital and that the police have been rushed out to intercept them.

The dispatch says that the communists are also assembling in strong force in the Lichtenberger district of Berlin but the police have surrounded the whole neighborhood and are not allowing anyone to pass through their cordon.

Serious trouble is expected tonight, the message adds.

Five policemen and two separatists were killed. Later 35 members of the police force called at the Belgian military headquarters and requested that they be disarmed.

NEW HAY FEVER CURE PROMISED

Chicago, Oct. 25.—A million Americans, who wheeze and sneeze with asthma and hay fever are promised relief and permanent cures in a new method of treatment being considered at the convention of the American College of Surgeons. Asthma and hay fever are due to local infection, the new method claims. Infection at the root of the teeth, in the nose or an internal organ may be reasonable for the sneezing and gasping that annually sends thousands to various climates seeking relief.

Medicinal treatment or operation removes the cause of the troubles, surgeons stated.

WALTON MAY BE PROSECUTED AS CHARGES GROW

Court Action for Official Misdeeds May be Linked with Impeachment

7 CHARGES APPROVED

Supreme Court Hears Writ to Bar Walton from Interference With Office

Oklahoma City, Oct. 25.—The eighth charge in the bill of impeachment against Governor J. C. Walton was voted today by the Oklahoma House when it approved, 77 to 14, article 12 of its committee report accusing the executive of declaring martial law in Tulsa "when no cause, reason or ground existed therefore."

Oklahoma City, Oct. 25.—A dozen or more house members formally attacked Representative Callahan, smashed a chair and threw Callahan out of the room when he declared in a bitter arraignment of the Ku Klux Klan just before noon recess of the Oklahoma house that N. C. Jewett, grand dragon of the Oklahoma realm of the Klan, was dictating the kind of legislation to be enacted in Oklahoma.

Callahan's word hardly fell in the house chamber before one member shouted "That's a black lie."

One member sprang at Callahan's throat and both fell in a struggle. Twelve or fifteen members rushed toward Callahan, most of them endeavoring to place their hands on him. The sergeant-at-arms and virtually all other members of the house rushed to the corner where the clash was taking place. Clenching fists were waving in the air when Callahan was forcibly ejected from the chamber. Callahan stood guarded by two members after the sergeant-at-arms had ordered other members back.

Callahan's attack followed long argument whether the house should vote impeachment of Gov. Walton on article 10, which concerned his declaration of martial law in Tulsa.

"The people in this state have been tried in secret before they reached the courtroom," Callahan declared.

"Do you know that 90 percent of the Oklahoma jury commissioners are members of the Klan," one member asked.

"Yes I know it," Callahan replied. He then related how Gov. Walton declared war on the Ku Klux Klan and how Grand Dragon Jewett "almost immediately denied the executive to overthrow the Ku Klux Klan. 'This same Mr. Jewett,' asserted Callahan, waving his arms and vigorously shaking his head, is dictating the kind of legislation to be enacted by this body. He

Here Rep. Callahan was interrupted by shouts from all over the house chamber and the members sprang on him.

The force of the attack knocked Callahan into the chair behind him, crushed it and two legislators went to the floor, surrounded almost immediately by groups of the indignant house members.

Oklahoma City, Oct. 25.—Governor J. C. Walton faced possible criminal prosecution for alleged official misdeeds as he turned today with his back to the wall to stem the tide of impeachment already enveloping him.

Ring in his ears was the announcement of a legislative investigating committee that it would present to a grand jury all of the impeachment accusations against him; and while the executive awaited the outcome of his court challenge of its authority to suspend him from office the upper house of the legislature, holding its first meeting as a court of impeachment, prepared to set in action the machinery for its trial.

Having already approved seven of the 22 charges contained in the committee report and forwarded them to the senate as separate bills of impeachment the lower house went into session today to consider the remaining counts of the indictments. Observers considered it as significant that but seven out of the 104 members of the house have voted consistently against acceptance of the charges. In such case the majority for adoption has been overwhelming.

Court Hears Writ

The state supreme court this afternoon will hear an application to make permanent a writ of prohibition restraining Governor Walton from interfering with Lieut. Gov. E. M. Trapp as acting Governor. This writ was granted late yesterday afternoon. The Governor, refusing to relinquish the Governor's chair under the provisions of the senate resolution which suspended him pending the impeachment proceedings, obtained an injunction barring Lieut. Gov. Trapp from the office.

The senate impeachment court, presided over by Chief Justice Johnson, is expected to hear the case this afternoon.

submitting certain questions to the jury.

STATE I. V. A. COMMITTEE TO MEET NOV. 13

Plans For Campaign Next Year to be Taken up, State Committee Says

CONSIDER BY LAWS

The state I. V. A. central committee will hold its first meeting since the organization convention last winter, at the Gardner hotel, Fargo, at 10 a. m. Tuesday, November 13, it was announced today by Theodore G. Nelson, state chairman.

The announcement says: "This meeting is called in compliance with the rules and regulations adopted by the Independent Voters' association at its organization meeting held at Bismarck on February 24, 1922, and for the purpose of discussing the question of holding a state convention, as provided for in said rules and regulations, and determining time, place and representation for said convention. Also to take up and act upon other matters consistent with the purpose and by-laws of the organization that may come before the meeting."

"The importance of a full attendance at this meeting cannot be emphasized too strongly. There are many indications that a great many of the people of North Dakota do not fully understand the difference between fundamental principles of popular government and the economics of business and industry, and therefore not able to keep the two apart in such manner as the future welfare of our state and our nation will require. The voters will be called on to go to the polls in three state wide elections again in 1924 (March, June and November). As it is now and will continue to be under our old laws, until the new election laws are approved by the voters, the welfare of the state is somewhat involved in each of three elections. This makes it necessary for those at the head of the Independent Voters' association, to whom the voters of the state who believe in a sound and stable government look for information and guidance, to watch the political scene intently and be prepared to give of their time, energy and means unsparringly, in order that that which has been gained for our state may not be lost again."

MARKET NEWS

WHEAT MART IS NERVOUS

Bad Reports from Argentine Give Market New Upturn

Chicago, Oct. 25.—Fear of frost in Argentina led to a new upturn in wheat today shortly after the market opened. The fact that the wheat crop in Argentina is at a critical stage of development made news of cold weather there a distinct bullish influence. The opening which varied from unchanged to 3-8 cents lower with Dec. $1.06 3-8 to 1-2 cent, and May $1.11 to 1-8 cent was followed by a material upturn all around.

Wheat held its gains well today in the latter trading although some reactions were witnessed. The close was unsettled, 3/4 to 1/4 cents net higher with December $1.07 to 1/4 and May $1.11 to 1/4.

STUDEBAKER'S production record of 110,540 cars for the first eight months of this year surpassing the record for the entire year of 1922 has caused wide comment in motor and business circles.

In an effort to keep pace with demand, Studebaker produced, during the month of August, a total of 15,700 cars, which broke all records for a single month's production, and indications point to a continued, heavy demand.

Such an achievement requires enormous physical and financial resources, an idea of which may be gained by the knowledge that Studebaker's actual net assets total $90,000,000 including $48,000,000 in plants.

Notable among these plants are the immense new factories at South Bend, Ind., in which the Light-Six models are manufactured complete. They reflect the results of 'six years' exhaustive investigation and study by construction engineers and production men, and are recognized as among the most modern and efficient manufacturing plants in the world.

$4,600,000 and the total insured acreage upon which levy can be made to meet these vast losses is approximately 7,600,000. The limit at which the levy can be made under the law is 90 cents per acre for $7.00 insurance and 71 cents per acre for $10.00. It is therefore evident that the losses this year have exceeded the legalized limit and must be prorated unless some other solution is found.

RAP LADD AND "COMMISSION"

Declared Not Authorized or Appointed by the President

Washington, Oct. 25.—The Woman Patriot Publishing company has made public a letter from the State department saying that the "commission" composed of Senators Ladd of North Dakota, King of Utah, Representative Fear of Wisconsin and one of two others, which investigated conditions in Europe, particularly Russia, was "not authorized or appointed by the President of the United States."

The letter was to Miss Mary G. Kibbreth, president, and signed by Alvey A. Adee, second assistant Secretary of State.

In view of the fact that the "commission" has no official standing, the Woman Patriot Publishing company expects to demand a presentation by the Department of Justice under the Logan act, should its forthcoming report on Russia be aimed against the administration's Russian policy.

The commission is said to have been financed by William Randolph Hearst, the publisher.

Miss Kibbreth, in a letter to Secretary of State Hughes, October 16, had this to say of the commission:

"If not appointed or authorized by the government, this Hearst commission of Congressmen should be engaged in propaganda to defeat the foreign policy of the United States, would seem liable to prosecution under the Logan act, or Section 5 of the Federal criminal code, prohibiting unauthorized correspondence or intercourse with foreign governments to defeat the measures of the government of the United States."

She requested the Secretary "as a matter of urgent public interest" to make known whether this "commission" was authorized, declaring that if not authorized, "any usurpation by it of executive authority, or of the functions of the State department, would come clearly within the scope of the Logan act."

NEW YORK TO ALASKA IN A WILLYS-KNIGHT

Dr. and Mrs. Stewart, on route from New York City to their home in Juneau, Alaska, passed through Bismarck yesterday, driving a Willys-Knight car that they had purchased in Toledo. Accompanying them were two children.

When stopping at the Lehr Motor Sales Company's garage, Dr. Stewart stated that, before purchasing a car in the east, he had investigated various cars very thoroughly, and finally bought the Willys-Knight because he was unable to find a Willys-Knight owner who was not thoroughly satisfied.

In buying a car, Dr. Stewart stated that he had also to take into consideration the low temperature in his country, and in investigating the Willys-Knight, he found it to be a very satisfactory car in cold weather. Dr. Stewart had driven 2,000 miles upon his arrival in Bismarck, at an average of 18 miles per gallon. He stated that he found the roads in Kentucky and Tennessee worse than in any other State he had traveled.

FUNERAL FOR HIGH SCHOOL BOY SATURDAY

Frederick William Barneck Died After Lingerin Illness, Due to Heart Trouble

Funeral services for Frederick William Barneck, aged 19 years, who died in a local hospital Tuesday night after a lingering illness, will be held from the McCabe Methodist Episcopal church Saturday afternoon at 1:30 p. m. Interment will be in Fairview cemetery.

Frederick William Barneck, the son of William Barneck, assistant maintenance engineer for the State Highway Commission, was born in Albert Lea, Minnesota, on March 4, 1905. He had lived in Bismarck four years, coming here with his family after his father joined the engineering forces of the state commission. Frederick entered school in Bismarck, and was in his junior year in the Bismarck High School. Although in poor health for several years he was a diligent student, and last year was vice-president of the sophomore class of the high school. He was pointing his studies toward a professional career. Illness cut short his attendance at the high school this year, he being forced to leave the school after attending but four days.

Heart trouble brought on by a rheumatic attack suffered two years ago was the cause of death. Since that time he had been ill either at home or in a hospital.

His father and mother and five brothers, R. E. of St. Paul, F. L. and H. of Albert Lea, and C. A. and J. Henry of Bismarck, survive.

R. E. Barneck and wife of St. Paul arrived last night to attend the funeral, and F. L. Barneck will reach the city tonight. C. H. Barneck is on the road to Bismarck from Albert Lea, motoring through, and is expected here tomorrow. Mrs. A. A. Peterson of Winnet, Montana, an aunt, arrived this morning, and relatives from Kansas are expected here tomorrow for the funeral.

Rev. S. F. Halford will officiate at the funeral services. Pall bearers will be from the Junior class of the high school.

The remains will be in the Webb undertaking chapel until before the funeral, and may be viewed there tomorrow and Saturday.

FRANCE CHANCE MAY BE PILOT OF SENATORS

New York, Oct. 25.—The Boston Red Sox tail enders this season, have furnished candidates to fill two managerial vacancies in the American League—Chicago and Washington—and one prospective vacancy in the National League, at Boston.

The candidates are Frank Chance and Jimmie Burke, manager and coach, respectively, of the Red Sox this season, who have been displaced by Lee Fohl, former St. Louis pilot, under the new Boston ownership.

The post which Fohl left at St. Louis and which Jimmy Austin has been filling temporarily, will be occupied by George Sisler next season, but as yet, the White Sox and Senators have signed no new leaders.

Chance, who admits having two big league offers under consideration, has been mentioned particularly for the Washington job vacated by Donie Bush, but his name also has been coupled with the Chicago berth, where Ed Gleason resigned in discouragement over his club's showing. Eddie Collins, Harry Hooper, and Ed Walsh also loom as possible successors to Gleason. And now that Burke, who formerly was at the helm of the St. Louis Browns, has been released, he, too, may be in line for either post.

Gibson was held in Shakopee on a charge of assault with attempt to kill and with auto theft. At the time of his incarceration there, he a proper use of the initiative. The first move is to circulate a petition for each measure and procure signatures of 10,000 voters; and then to vote for such measures at the primary election in June.

It is vain to hope for relief from the Ins or the Outs. A tax is never too high for those who handle or pocket the money. In 1922, one of the Ins said of a petition to reduce the taxes, "It is a most vicious and diabolical measure for which the people would be sure to vote if given a chance."

Now as we think, the people should have a chance to vote down the ruinous taxes which make them slaves and drive many from the state. Will you circulate a petition? Please answer.

ASKS LAWS TO CUT TAXES IN NORTH DOKOTA

Former Justice Robinson Proposes Use of the Initiative in Next Election

Former Justice J. E. Robinson of the supreme court is planning a campaign for the reduction of taxes in the state.

He proposes to use the initiative to enact laws to reduce taxes. In a communication to The Tribune today Judge Robinson says:

As my book shows, "We shall be free unless we deserve to be slaves." The old plight of the toiling farmer is due to enslaving causes.—He pays too much usury and excessive freights; he buys at two prices and sells at half prices; he pays nearly all the ruinous taxes, 33 millions a year. During the past five years, under the Laws of 1919, the assessments and tax levies have been marked up to three times the normal sum and three times that of any prior year. What is the remedy? It is to lop 25 per cent from all taxes due in 1924, and to base future assessments of land on its net average productive value. That we can do by

STATE I. V. A. COMMITTEE TO MEET NOV. 13

Plans For Campaign Next Year to be Taken up, State Committee Says

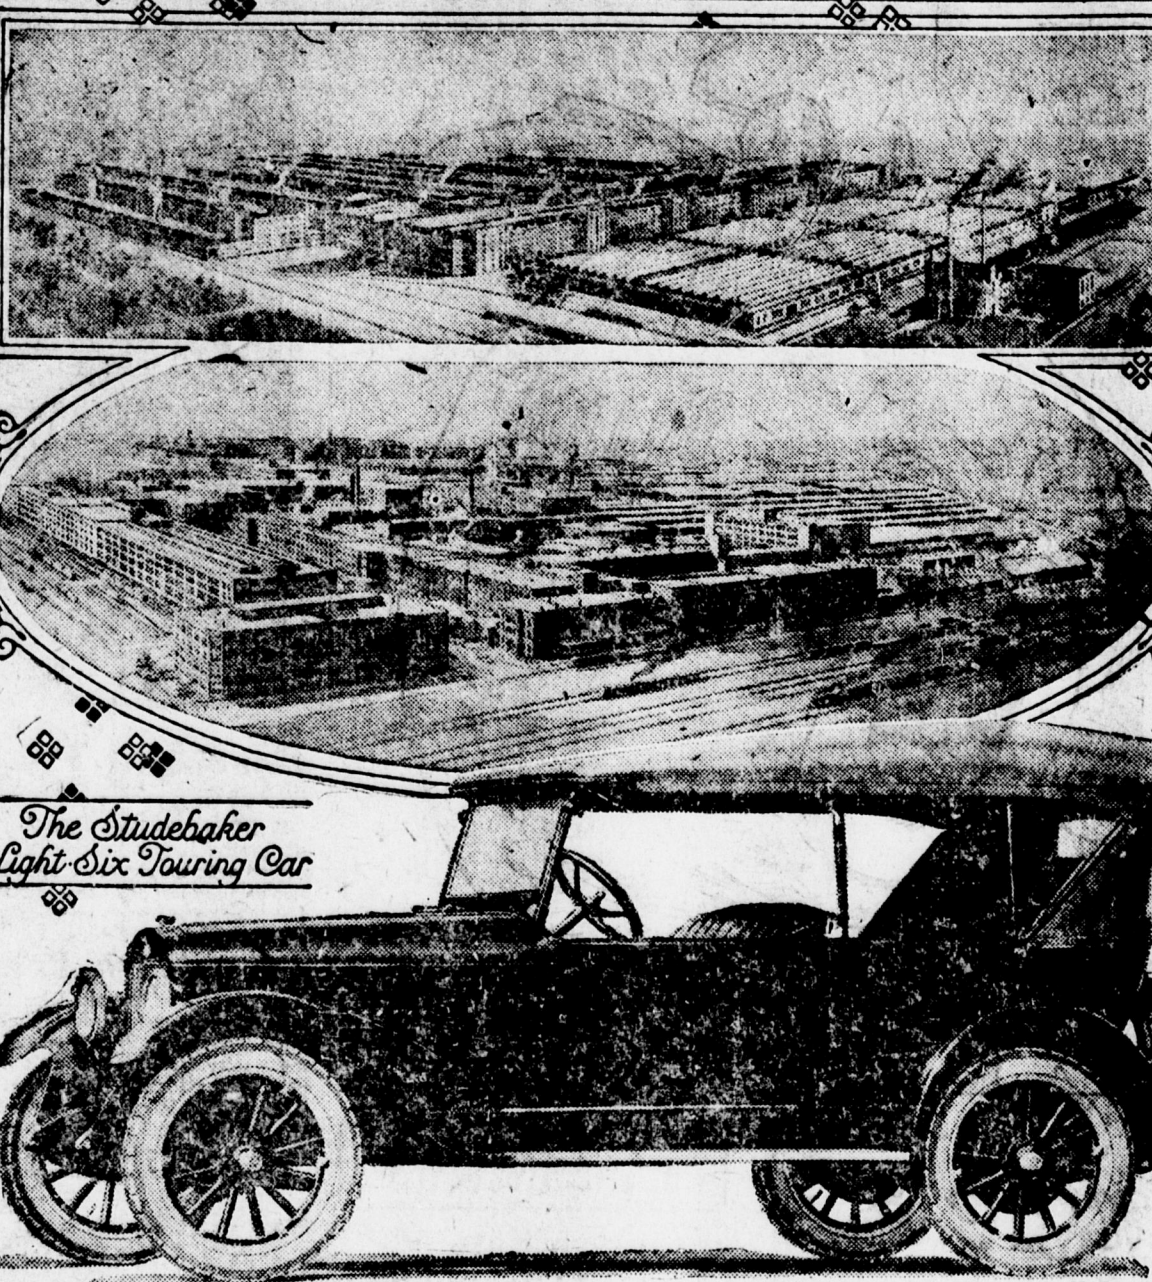

CONSIDER BY LAWS

The state I. V. A. central committee will hold its first meeting since the organization convention last winter at the Gardner hotel, Fargo, at 10 a. m. Tuesday, November 13, it was announced today by Theodore G. Nelson, state chairman.

The announcement says: "This meeting is called in compliance with the rules and regulations adopted for the Independent Voters' association at its organization meeting held at Bismarck on February 24, 1922, and for the purpose of discussing the question of holding a state convention, as provided for in said rules and regulations, and determining time, place and representation for said convention. Also to take up and act upon other matter consistent with the purpose and by-laws of the organization that may come before the meeting.

"The importance of a full attendance at this meeting can not be emphasized too strongly. There are many indications that a great many of the people of North Dakota do not fully understand the difference between fundamental principles of popular government and the economics of business and industry, and therefore not able to keep the two apart in such manner as the future welfare of our state and our nation will require. The voters will be called on to go to the polls in three state wide elections again in 1924 (March, June and November). As it is now and will continue to be under our old laws, until the new election laws are approved by the voters, the welfare of the state is somewhat involved in each of these elections. This makes it necessary for those at the head of the Independent Voters' association, to whom the voters of the state who believe in a sound and stable government look for information and guidance, to watch the political arena untiringly and be prepared to give of their time, energy and means unsparringly, in order that that which has been gained for our state may not be lost again."

to give the purchaser the benefit of savings effected by the use of the new factory ideas in the new factory is to be found in the building where final assembly is carried out. Here an improvement on the familiar conveyor system used in automobile factories is employed.

Endless Chain to Completion
Moving along on an "endless chain" behind each frame upon which a car is assembled is a carrier upon which the various units that go into the car are hung. These units, such as transmission, steering assembly, axles, etc., are stocked alongside the endless chain, and placed on the carriers as they go by.

When the last of these units is hung upon the carriers, the actual assembly of the complete car begins, under careful and expert supervision, an improvement upon the former method of long drawn-out, piecemeal assembly. The arrangement of this progressive assembly also provides for the mechanical handling of all material, and it reduces to a minimum the cost and confusion of moving stock.

The sub-assembly building, where the various units themselves are assembled, is four stories high, of reinforced concrete construction, and has an interior bay open to the roof. The bay is covered with a glass skylight, and is equipped with crane service and landing balconies on all floors for the quick and economical handling of materials.

The bay also has a depressed unloading track with accommodations for ten freight cars. In this sub-assembly building are located the store-rooms, tool departments, machinery maintenance and repair departments, together with factory administration offices and employees' restaurant.

The great building that houses the stamping department which represents an investment of $4,000,000 is of steel-frame construction, with tile roof and glass sides. Heavy metal-forming presses manufacture the frames, fenders, hoods and other stamped parts of the car, while huge ovens are utilized for the baking of the enameled pieces.

Visitors who make the trip through the Light-Six factory always like to linger in this department, watch the interesting processes performed—veritable miracles they seem—and study the remarkable economies in operation. Six plants are the machine shops which alone represent an investment of $7,000,000. Here the Light-Six crankshafts and connecting rods are machined to very accurate limits on all surfaces, a practice that is largely responsible for the practical elimination of vibration in the Light-Six—a practice that is followed exclusively by Studebaker on cars at the Light-Six price. Sixty-one precision operations are required on the crankshaft alone.

Modernity of Facilities
Among many notable features of manufacture which illustrate the modernity of facilities of the Light-Six are the machine shops which alone represent an investment of $7,000,000. Here the Light-Six crankshafts and connecting rods are machined to very accurate limits on all surfaces, a practice that is largely responsible for the practical elimination of vibration in the Light-Six—a practice that is followed exclusively by Studebaker on cars at the Light-Six price. Sixty-one precision operations are required on the crankshaft alone.

The South Bend plants contain 4,875,000 square feet of floor space. They employ 12,000 persons. The cost of the Light-Six plant is $23,250,000. The South Bend plant cost $4,000,000 and the power plants $2,500,000 and the assembly and stock plants cost $5,000,000. The new foundries now under construction will cost over $2,000,000.

RAP LADD AND "COMMISSION"

Declared Not Authorized or Appointed by the President

Washington, Oct. 25.—The Woman Patriot Publishing company has made public a letter from the State department saying that the "commission" composed of Senators Ladd of North Dakota, King of Utah, Representative Fear of Wisconsin and one or two others, which investigated conditions in Europe, particularly Russia, was "not authorized or appointed by the President of the United States."

The letter was to Miss Mary G. Kilbreth, president, and signed by Alvey A. Adee, second assistant Secretary of State.

In view of the fact that the "commission" has no official standing, the Woman Patriot Publishing company expects to demand its prosecution by the Department of Justice under the Logan act, should its forthcoming report on Russia be aimed against the administration's Russian policy. The commission is said to have been financed by William Randolph Hearst, the publisher.

Miss Kilbreth, in a letter to Secretary of State Hughes, October 16, had this to say of the commission: "If not appointed or authorized by the government, this Hearst commission of Congressmen, should it engage in propaganda to defeat the foreign policy of the United States, would seem liable to prosecution under the Logan act, or Section 5 of the Federal criminal code, prohibiting unauthorized correspondence or intercourse with foreign governments to defeat the measures of the government of the United States."

She requested the Secretary "as a matter of urgent public interest" to make known whether this "commission" was authorized, declaring that if not authorized, "any usurpation by it of executive authority, or of the functions of the State department, would constitute a violation of the Logan act."

NEW YORK TO ALASKA IN A WILLYS-KNIGHT

Dr. and Mrs. Stewart, en route from New York City to their home in Juneau, Alaska, passed through Bismarck yesterday, driving a Willys-Knight car that they had purchased in Toledo. Accompanying them were two children.

When stopping at the Lahr Motor Sales Company's garage, Dr. Stewart stated that, before purchasing a car in the east, he investigated various cars, very thoroughly and finally bought the Willys-Knight because he was unable to find a Willys-Knight owner who was not thoroughly satisfied.

In buying a car, Dr. Stewart stated that he had also to take into consideration the low temperature in his country, and in investigating the Willys-Knight, he found it to be a very satisfactory car in cold weather. Dr. Stewart had driven 3,000 miles upon his arrival in Bismarck, an average of 18 miles per gallon. He stated that he found the roads in Kentucky and Tennessee worse than in any other State he had traveled.

He came to Jamestown from Watertown, Wis.

FUNERAL FOR HIGH SCHOOL BOY SATURDAY

Frederick William Barneck Died After Lingular Illness, Due to Heart Trouble

Funeral services for Frederick William Barneck, aged 19 years, who died in a local hospital Tuesday night after a lingering illness, will be held from the McCabe Methodist Episcopal church Saturday afternoon at 1:30 p. m. Interment will be in Fairview cemetery.

Frederick William Barneck, the son of William Barneck, assistant maintenance engineer for the State Highway Commission, was born in Albert Lea, Minnesota, on March 4, 1906. He had lived in Bismarck four years, coming here with his family after his father joined the engineering forces of the state commission. Frederick entered school in Bismarck, and was in his junior year in the Bismarck High School. Although in poor health for several years he was a diligent student, and last year was vice-president of the sophomore class of the high school. He was pointing his studies toward a professional career. Illness cut short his attendance at the high school this year, he being forced to leave the school after attending but four days.

Heart trouble brought on by a rheumatic attack suffered two years ago was the cause of death. Since that time he had been ill either at home or in a hospital.

His father and mother and five brothers, R. E. of St. Paul, F. L. and C. H. of Albert Lea, and C. A. and J. Henry of Bismarck, survive.

R. E. Barneck and wife of St. Paul arrived last night to attend the funeral, and F. L. Barneck will reach the city tonight. C. H. Barneck is on the road to Bismarck from Albert Lea, motoring through, and is expected here tomorrow. Mrs. A. A. Peterson of Winnet, Montana, an aunt, arrived this morning, and relatives from Kansas are expected here tomorrow for the funeral.

Rev. S. F. Halfyard will officiate at the funeral services. Pall bearers will be from the Junior class of the high school.

The remains will be in the Webb undertaking chapel until before the funeral, and may be viewed there tomorrow and Saturday.

FRANCE CHANCE MAY BE PILOT OF SENATORS

New York, Oct. 25.—The Boston Red Sox tail enders this season, have furnished candidates to fill two managerial vacancies in the American League—Chicago and Washington—and one prospective vacancy in the National League, at Boston.

The candidates are Frank Chance and Jimmy Burke, manager and coach, respectively, of the Red Sox this season, who have been displaced by Lee Fohl, former St. Louis pilot, under the new Boston ownership. The post which Fohl left at St. Louis and which Jimmy Austin has been filling temporarily, will be occupied by George Sisler next season, but as yet, the White Sox and Senators have signed no new leaders.

Chance, who admits having two big league offers under consideration, has been mentioned particularly for the Washington job vacated by Donie Bush, but his name also has been coupled with the Chicago berth, where Kid Gleason resigned in discouragement over his club's showing. Eddie Collins, Harry Hooper, and Ed Walsh also loom as possible successors to Gleason, and now that Burke, who formerly was at the helm for the St. Louis Browns, has been released, he, too, may be in line for either post.

Suspect Held Jail Escape

Fargo, Oct. 25.—Ed J. Boschart, held in the Cass county jail on a charge of being implicated in the Viking hotel robbery on Oct. 15, has been identified as Harry Gibson, alias John Howard, who escaped from the Shakopee, Minn., jail on Sept. 24, 1923, according to Deputy Sheriff James Milligan.

Gibson was held in Shakopee on a charge of assault with attempt to kill and with auto theft. At the time of his incarceration there, he

ASKS LAWS TO CUT TAXES IN NORTH DAKOTA

Former Justice Robinson Proposes Use of the Initiative in Next Election

Former Justice J. E. Robinson of the supreme court is planning a campaign for the reduction of taxes in the state.

He proposes to use the initiative to enact laws to reduce taxes. In a communication to The Tribune today Judge Robinson says: "As my book shows, 'We shall be free unless we deserve to be slaves.' The sad plight of the toiling farmer is due to enslaving causes—He pays too much usury and excessive freights; he buys at two prices and sells at half prices; he pays nearly all the ruinous taxes, 33 millions a year. During the past five years, under the Laws of 1919, the assessments and tax levies have been marked up to three times the normal sum and three times that of any prior year. What is the remedy? It is to lop 25 per cent from all taxes due in 1924, and to base future assessments of land on its net average productive value. That we can do by

Son Killed, Man Dies From Shock

Neebe, N. D., Oct. 25.—Maurice Morin, resident of this city, was killed very suddenly when he accidentally touched a live wire about two weeks ago, and this week funeral services were held here for Joseph Morin, the father, who died from the shock of the son's death.

Joseph Morin, who was 75 years of age, was a pioneer of Pembina county but had moved to California to spend his last years. He was notified of his son's death and made the trip to North Dakota to attend the funeral, but took cold while crossing the mountains on the way here. The severe cold together with the general shock of the son's death soon put him in bed and he died peacefully at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Charles Morris.

CALL LINDSEY TO GRAND JURY

Will Determine Whether He May Be Forced to Divulge Information

Denver, Oct. 25.—Whether Juvenile Judge Ben Lindsey can be compelled to reveal specific cases concerning alleged illegal operations performed in Denver was expected to be determined today. The chief figure in Denver court has been subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury as a result of his statement to the press that fully 1,000 alleged illegal operations were performed annually.

In a letter mailed to the grand jury yesterday he made known his intention of refusing to violate the confidences placed in him by women and girls. However, he said he was willing to give such general information as might lead to proper legislative enactment to put a stop to the criminal practices and in the letter outlined his position.

Case Up For Fourth Trial

Carson, N. D., Oct. 25.—The case of Edmund Dubs, crippled when he struck a train near New Leipzig, 12 years ago, against the Northern Pacific railroad, will for the fourth time be tried in district court here next week as the result of an appeal for new trial granted the defendant company by the state supreme court on technical errors committed by the last trial judge in submitting certain questions to the jury.

The railroad company contends the plaintiff, at the time of the accident, about 14 years old, had gone to sleep on track; the plaintiff complains that no warning was given of the train's approach. The case has previously been tried in Morton county twice and Grant county once, each jury giving damages in varying amounts, the last verdict being for $10,000.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

ELIMINATION OF GRADE CROSSINGS

The United States Bureau of Public Roads launched a worthy campaign when it set out to eliminate railroad grade-crossings on primary highways for the building of which federal funds are asked. The State Highway Commission and the commissioners of Burleigh county, it is pleasing to note, are strongly behind such a policy. A terrible toll is being taken in the nation every year in automobile grade-crossing accidents. North Dakota, and the immediate vicinity of Bismarck, will not soon forget the tragedies of the last few years which have snuffed out many lives.

The railroads and many other agencies are engaged in a creditable effort to induce motorists to use care. It has long been a rule in cities and on electric interurban lines in the county to stop before crossing railroads. The state railroad commission has decreed that inter-city bus lines in North Dakota must stop before making the crossing. In spite of the warning of grim tragedy thousands of motorists continue to blithely step on the gas at a railroad crossing without looking to right or left.

More power to those organizations, officials and railroads who are doing their best to decrease the number of crossing accidents by impressing upon the minds of the people the extreme foolishness of carelessness in this respect. That there will be such accidents as long as there are grade crossings is not doubted. The two campaigns are correlated. The ultimate goal, of course, is the elimination of every dangerous grade-crossing.

NOT TOO DEEP, HENRY

Henry Ford clubs are to have a convention to "nominate" him for the Presidency. Things begin to look serious although Henry has discreetly refused to indicate a desire to be a candidate. Mr. Ford doubtless has pretty intimate knowledge by this time of the myriad ways opened to a rich man to contribute his money to founding orphan asylums for cats or similar worthy objects. But if he gets deep into politics his bank-roll is apt to experience some new sensations. He might page a few state officials in his own state, or North Dakota, for examples of how inexhaustible is the pocketbook of a man in politics—in the eyes of many people.

1923 WEATHER STRANGE

The Klondike region, far north, had the longest summer season in its history. Autumn has been phenomenally mild up there, the Yukon River free of ice late in October. Old settlers are predicting a mild winter in the north, which would mean an "open winter" in our country. One guess is as good as another, for 1923 has been the strangest year for weather in our generation. You'll recall, some scientists predicted this would be a "year without a summer." They got fooled.

PREVENTATIVES FOR COLDS

With winter coming, whether mild or severe, epidemics of colds are certain. Here is free medicine:
 Dr. J. R. Harris writes in International Journal of Surgery, that fresh fruit juices especially oranges and grapefruit, help cure colds and even prevent them. Acids of fruit juices do many things, most important of which is the way they aid the blood's white corpuscles to attack and devour cold germs.

STEEL OUTUT

Steel industry has slowed down, nothing to worry about. Just a reaction, buying was abnormally big a few months ago. Buyers sit back, sizing up the situation, hoping for price cuts. It's a periodical situation, buyer and producer saying to each other: "Well, I'm waiting, it's your move." United States Steel Corporation is working nine-tenths of capacity, only a tenth less than top speed. It has orders on its books for over five million tons of steel.

SWISS CHEESE

Everything is more or less topsy-turvy, and nothing seems to be spared. Switzerland is excited by its government's discovery that Swiss cheeses now are three-fifths holes, only two-fifths cheese. Normally it's the other way around. Only the Swiss cows know the reason, and they can't tell.
 Possibly the restaurant doughnut will bear watching.

TO HEAR ABOUT CHINESE

Philippine Islands in ancient times were inhabited by the Chinese, according to scientists who have been digging up relics of the past. All paleolithic roads are beginning to lead to China. Recent excavations suggest that the cradle of the human race was in Gobi, the big Mongolian desert. You'll read a lot about the original Chinese in next few years. Among other things, they claim they discovered America 1000 years ahead of Columbus. We think P. T. Barnum discovered America.

PROGRESS RAPID

When the Wright brothers were making the first airplane flights they predicted that man eventually might fly 50 miles an hour, but hardly faster. Americans already are flying five times that fast.
 The engines of the latest planes turn the air propellers more than 40 times a second, and some of those engines develop 400 horsepower and better apiece.

Progress has been rapid, will steadily be more so. Airplanes in another generation or so will probably be as common as autos are today.

MENTAL TESTS

An eastern professor urges mental tests to keep incapable candidates out of college. He figures this would prevent wasting the time of teachers as well as dumbbells. Unfortunately, it can't be done. The really fit students can't be distinguished from the unfit until about 25 years of age. We know a star graduate who is driving a team, in a logging camp.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton

Pretty soon Nancy and Nick arrived in Dixie Land. They found themselves on an old plantation, just near a big buttonwood tree, right as the Fairy Queen had directed.

Half way up the buttonwood tree was a little door and on the door was a card which said "Misses 'Possum! Her House!"

Away down near to the ground was a doornell and Nick gave it a pull.

Instantly the door overhead opened and a voice called down, "Who's there?"

"We are!" answered the Twins. "We've come to call!"

"It's easier for me to come down than it is for you to come up," called Misses 'Possum, "so just sit down till I gather up my family. I can't leave them alone very well, for Brothah Coon's mighty fond of young 'possum and he lives over yonder in that tree."

Pretty soon she dropped right at their feet, but what was the Twins' amazement to see a creature almost hidden from sight by a dozen little 'possums sitting up in a straight row like majors, their funny tails curled tightly around hers to keep them from falling off.

"Get off, children, and behave your manners and make a bow to the lady and gentlemen," said Misses 'Possum, giving her tail a sharp jerk which sent them all rolling.

"Oh, Mammy, Mammy," they all shrieked, rushing at her again and piling on like passengers atop of a Fifth Avenue bus. "Don't put us off, please."

"All right, sighed Misses 'Possum patiently. "Talk about people being tied to one's apron strings. It's far worse to have them tied to your tail. But after all I don't blame them. Old Reddy Fox is always snooping around, and he likes 'possum better than Mistah Coon even. My! Everybody seems to like 'possum—even people, it's dreadful to be so popular!"

"That's what we came to see about," said Nick. "We'll help you any way we can."

"That's very kind of you," said Misses 'Possum gratefully, "but really I don't know of a thing you can do. Besides we have a pretty good time as a rule. You've no idea what good things there are to eat in Dixie Land! Did you ever taste 'possums? Perishims—some folks call them."

"No, we never did," said Nancy and Nick.

"Then come and I'll show you," said Misses 'Possum brightly, and she trotted up her tail.

I wonder if you are interested in all this, little Marquise? If you are not you can just leave the letters lying in the little secret drawer and never peep into them. But I can tell you I was very much interested in finding out why I had met Ruth and Walter Burke in that out-of-the-way place.

She did not give me a chance to question—but clasped her hand around my arm tightly and said, "I am sure, Leslie, you were sent to me by Providence itself."

"What do you mean, dear?"

"I'm afraid I was just about to do something I would have regretted all my life."

"Ruth, you don't mean to tell me—I hurriedly questioned."

"Yes, that is just what I do mean," she interrupted. "Walter had just about persuaded me to leave tomorrow morning for Europe with him."

"Do you love him?"

"I don't know, but oh, Leslie, I am so tired of it all and Walter has loved me for years—at least he tells me he has."

"But Ruth, that has not kept him from getting into a number of scandals with other women. Walter Burke's reputation, as you know, is most unsavory."

"Yes, yes, I know dear, but surely you can understand that even through all his protestations and his love making to other women, a man may be able to keep the one woman in his heart apart and alone."

"Could you do this, Ruth? If you loved a man could you flirt with and flatter other men? Could you let them make love to you, all the while holding him in your heart? Would you not feel that you had besmirched your love?"

"Yes, I would feel that, dear, but surely you understand that men and women are different."

"Why are they different?"

"I think mostly because of the difference in a man's and woman's education. A man is taught that he will be forgiven and a woman is made to understand that she must forgive."

"Has it never struck you, Leslie, rather singularly that the first year after the war the newspapers were full of accounts of women who had forgiven their husbands for marital derelictions while they were abroad?"

"Indeed, some of those women adopted the children of these illicit unions. But did you read anywhere of a man, coming back and finding his wife with a child as proof of her betrayal of him, forgiving her? I did not."

"That is just it, Ruth," I broke in, trying to drive home the truth she had uttered. "Do you know what would happen to you, my dear, if you should take that ship for Europe tomorrow? In a few years Walter Burke would be coming back to his old home town handsome, debonaire, still an eligible bachelor. He would be ready to marry some girl much younger than himself, while you at best would be skulking around third-rate boarding houses, hoping not to meet your own countrymen for fear scandalous tongues would make you forego even that sordid retreat."

FARMER-BANKER CONFERENCES THROUGHOUT NATION DEVELOP WAYS TO AID AGRICULTURE

Collective Marketing, Diversified Farming, Promotion of Agricultural Education and Use of Bank Instead of Mercantile Credits Chief Lines of Suggested Action.

By D. H. OTIS,

Director, Agricultural Commission, American Bankers Association.

Four lines of action to improve the business of farming stand out in the discussions that have occurred at a series of farmer-banker conferences now being held throughout the United States. They are: collective marketing, diversified farming, the promotion of agricultural education and the use of the more economical bank credit rather than mercantile credit. At many points active steps to foster action along these lines have been taken.

The conferences were initiated by the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association to the end that the condition of the man on the farm be improved. The first conference was held in conjunction with the Wisconsin College of Agriculture at Madison. An important point of contact for the work of the Commission was established at this meeting in the form of co-operation with the agricultural colleges.

In five other states—California, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, and Utah—was agreed at subsequent conferences that bankers' agricultural committees would meet at the state agricultural colleges and, in co-operation with the college officials, work out a program that they would recommend to the banks.

It was at the Texas conference that it was developed that the officials of both the bankers' association and of the state college felt the big problem for that state was the establishment of a system of collective, orderly marketing. In order to bring this problem effectively before the farmers and bankers it was agreed to hold a banker-farmer meeting in December. Efforts will be made to get each banker to bring with him several representative farmers of his community. The program and demonstration will emphasize the need of marketing, the marketing problem, and point ways to a satisfactory solution.

At Athens, Georgia, the conference recommended that the State Bankers Association take steps to raise a fund for assisting deserving students to complete a college course in agriculture or home economics. This conference, recognizing the valuable work being done by county agricultural and home demonstration agents, also went on record as favoring the employment of agents in each county.

At the Raleigh, North Carolina, conference the pressing problem, in addition to loans for worthy students, was held to be encouragement of the farmer to practice greater crop diversification. The conference felt that the first big step was to get farmers at least to produce such crops as vegetables, fruit, milk, meat and poultry to live on. Many farmers, it was brought out, now depend entirely on the cotton crop, and buy the products named for their own tables.

More Economical Credit
 At the conference at Ithaca, N. Y., those participating felt that a better understanding between farmers and bankers would be beneficial to both. At present a large amount of the credit used by farmers is in the form of mercantile credit, which, it was pointed out, is much more expensive for them than bank credit. It was felt that the importance of education is needed to acquaint farmers with banking facilities. The conference, therefore, recommended that the Agricultural Committee of the State Bankers Association, the agricultural college and representatives of the Farm Bureau and the State Grange get together for the purpose of working out programs and plans for further meetings to be held in the various counties of the state.

At a conference held at Amherst, Massachusetts, there were representatives from Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut. Emphasis was placed on the importance of the Boys' and Girls' Club work. The New England conference also felt that the importance of bank credit over mercantile credit should be stressed. A resolution was adopted and is being sent to agricultural committees in each State urging that they get in touch with their agricultural colleges and map out a program for educating the farmer in regard to the importance and the economy of bank credit over mercantile credit.

The emphasis on this resolution came not so much from the bankers present as it did from the representatives of the agricultural colleges and the farmers.

Miss Sundquist Honored With a Hallow'e'en Shower

A miscellaneous shower was given for Miss Mayme K. Sundquist, a bride of the near future, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Kennelly of Fourth street by a group of her intimate friends. The diversions of the evening was card playing, the honors going to Misses Florence Fairbanks and Dorothy Blending.

A surprise feature of the evening was the unique presentation of gifts. An old witch appeared in the room, carrying a sack attached to a broom stick. Upon her arrival all light vanished except two candles. In the dimly lighted room the witch turned out many beautiful presents from her bag at the feet of the honor guest.

Decorations about the Kennelly home were charmingly carried out in hallow'e'en colors with figures of witches, black cats, and pumpkins giving a holiday effect.

Acting as hostesses were: Misses Margaret Englemann, Clara Christensen, Hildor Simonsen, and Esther Hoover.

Miss Sundquist's marriage to R. G. McLaughlin will be an event of the coming season.

Two Distinct Styles in Coats Are Proving Popular

By JULIA BOTTOMLEY

Since the beginning of the present season there have been two distinct styles in coats struggling for supremacy in the fashion world. Both are attractive, both have the authority of the best designers, and both continue to please, with no signs of weakening.

Spring styles are apt to appear before one or the other begins to run second in the race. In the meantime women may choose either type.

Two characteristic models of these different styles are pictured in the illustration. The coat at the left features a flared skirt, ornamented with braid (which gives the effect of flounces) and large designs in colored embroidery placed at intervals about the flare. The cuffs are also trimmed with braid and embroidery. "Carnival" is used for the narrow choker collar and the coat fastens with a huge button in colors that appear in the embroidery.

The coat at the right conforms strictly to the straight-line mode. It is of heavy woven material in a blanket weave, with an indistinct pattern. The large sleeves are finished with tabs and buttons and gray fox fur is used in the deep shawl collar. Of the two coats shown it is the more practical and becoming choice for the average wearer.

For evening wear both coats and capes are brilliant with metallic brocades and beautiful embroidery. In garments of this class there is a definite tendency toward the substitution of these two trimmings in place of fur.

Bonham Brothers Optometrists

Truly, one learns by doing, and every Optometrist could describe cases that have come under his observation that appear little short of miracles.

It is not our purpose in this series of articles to go into any tiresome details, but rather to discuss broadly and basically the subject of Optometry in its relation to public well-being.

But it should be stated that an error of vision can be straining the eyes, thus setting up a nerve irritation, cause mischief that appears as far as possible removed from the eyes. The explanation is that imperfect eyes impose too great a drain upon the nerve supply of the body, and it is no exaggeration to state that there is almost no end to the reflex symptoms that may be produced.

Miss Sundquist Honored With a Hallowe'en Shower

A miscellaneous shower was given for Miss Mayme K. Sundquist, a bride of the near future, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Kennelly of Fourth street by a group of her intimate friends. The diversion of the evening was card playing, the honors going to Misses Florence Fairbank and Dorothy Blanding.

A surprise feature of the evening was the unique presentation of gifts. An old witch appeared in the room, carrying a sack attached to a broom stick. Upon her arrival all light vanished except two candles. In the dimly lighted room the witch turned out many beautiful presents from her bag at the feet of the honor guest.

Decorations about the Kennelly home were charmingly carried out in hallowe'en colors with figures of witches, black cats, and pumpkins giving a holiday effect.

Acting as hostesses were: Misses Margaret Engelsen, Clara Christensen, Hildor Simonsen, and Esther Haaver.

Miss Sundquist's marriage to R. G. McLaughlin will be an event of the coming season.

Two Distinct Styles in Coats Are Proving Popular

By JULIA BOTTOMLEY

Since the beginning of the present season there have been two distinct styles in coats struggling for supremacy in the fashion world. Both are attractive, both have the authority of the best designers, and both continue to please, with no signs of weakening. The first style is apt to appear before one or the other begins to run second in the race. In the meantime women may choose either type.

Two characteristic models of these different styles are pictured in the illustration. The coat at the left features a flared skirt, ornamented with braid (which gives the effect of flounces) and large designs in colored embroidery placed at intervals about the flare. The cuffs are also trimmed with braid and embroidery. "Caneul is used for the narrow choker collar and the coat fastens with a huge button in colors that appear in the embroidery.

The coat at the right conforms strictly to the straight-line mode. It is of heavy woolen material in a blanket weave, with an indistinct pattern. The large sleeves are finished with tabs and buttons and gray fox fur is used in the deep shawl collar. Of the two coats shown it is the more practical and becoming choice for the average wearer.

For evening wear both coats and capes are brilliant with metallic brocades and beautiful embroidery. In garments of this class there is a definite tendency toward the substitution of these two trimmings in place of fur.

Bonham Brothers Optometrists

Truly, one learns by doing, and every Optometrist could describe cases that have come under his observation that appear little short of miracles.

It is not our purpose in this series of articles to go into any tiresome detail, but rather to discuss broadly and basically the subject of Optometry in its relation to public well-being.

But it should be stated that an error of vision can be by straining the eyes, thus setting up a nerve irritation, cause mischief that appears as far as possible removed from the eyes.

The explanation is that imperfect eyes impose too great a drain upon the nerve supply of the body, and it is no exaggeration to state that there is almost no end to the reflex symptoms that may be produced.

To be continued next Monday.

'DEMON' STARS IN LAST GAMES HERESATURDAY

Alfson and Scott Will Finish in Mandan Games Unless Another Contest Is Obtained

DRIVING TEAM HARD

Slight Dose of Over-Confidence Would Be Fatal, Bismarck High Players Told

Two of the stars of the Bismarck high school football team for the last two years may be seen in action on the local gridiron for the last time Saturday, unless Bismarck secured one of the sectional contests. They are Ed Alfson, fullback, and Edgar Scott, tackle.

Both Alfson and Scott are playing bang-up games this year. Scott was captain last year and he and Alfson both won places on the all-state high school team. Each weighs about 170 pounds and though of a different type of build each puts his whole 170 pounds of bone and muscle into every play.

Alfson's line-plugging, which was a disappointment three years ago and not so good the first part of last season, is one of the best scoring assets of the Bismarck team. Scott, in addition to his defensive ability, also can carry the ball and snag a forward pass out of the air. Alfson is developing as a punter and throws the ball well.

Herbert O'Hare, who showed up well in the game with Mandan played in the latter city, went even better in the game at Dickinson, and will be in the game at halfback. Although one of the highest halfbacks in high school football in the state and troubled by lack of clear vision, he has made up the deficiencies by speed and hard hitting. With Noddings at the other half the local team has two fast men flanking Alfson, who can hit the line, smash the tackles or skirt the ends.

Coach Houser took the local squad of about 50 players at the beginning of the season, with only a few experienced players to form the nucleus of the team. From this he has built a team which has thus far improved in every game played. The team has been going at top speed this week in preparation for the Mandan game. Two hour scrimmages have been the rule.

The Mandan game is expected to be the closest and hardest fought game of the season, including the contest in Mandan in which the locals nosed out a victory. Mandan will have her full strength in the game Saturday, two of her stars having been out in the first contest. A slight dose of over-confidence would work havoc with the Bismarck "Demons" and Coach Houser has given them to understand that they go into the game on even terms, but at a disadvantage, in that Mandan has the most to gain by a victory. The local high school rooters, realizing the importance of the contest, are planning to support the team stronger than ever before.

The game will be called at 3:30 p. m. Saturday.

'DEMON' STARS IN LAST GAMES HERESATURDAY

DRIVING TEAM HARD

Slight Dose of Over-Confidence Would be Fatal, Bismarck High Players Told

Two of the stars of the Bismarck high school football team for the last two years may be seen in action on the local gridiron for the last time Saturday, unless Bismarck secured one of the sectional contests. They are Edward Alfson, fullback, and Edgar Scott, tackle. Both Alfson and Scott are playing bang-up games this year. Scott was captain last year and he and Alfson both won places on the all-state high school team. Each weighs about 170 pounds and though of a different type of build, each puts his whole 170 pounds of bone and muscle into every play.

Alfson's line-plunging, which was a disappointment three years ago and not so good the first part of last season, is one of the best scoring assets of the Bismarck team. Scott, in addition to his defensive ability, also can carry the ball and snag a forward pass out of the air. Alfson is developing as a punter and throws the ball well.

Herbert O'Hare, who showed up well in the game with Mandan played in the latter city, went even better in the game at Dickinson and will be in the game at halfback. Although one of the lightest halfbacks in high school football in the state and troubled by lack of clear vision, he has made up the deficiencies by speed and has been hitting with nodding at the other half the local team has two fast men flanking Alfson, who can hit the line, smash the tackles or skirt the ends.

O'HARE

Coach Houser took the local squad of about 50 players at the beginning of the season, with only a few experienced players to form the nucleus of the team. From this he has built a team which has thus far improved in every game played. The team has been going at top speed this week in preparation for the Mandan game. Two hour scrimmages have been the rule.

The Mandan game is expected to be the closest and hardest fought game of the season, including the contest in Mandan in which the Jets nipped out a victory. Mandan will have her full strength in the game Saturday, two of her stars having been out in the first contest. A slight dose of over-confidence would have havoc with the Bismarck "Demons" and Coach Houser has given them to understand that they go into the game on even terms, but at a disadvantage, in that Mandan has the most to gain by a victory. The local high school rooters, realizing the importance of the contest, are planning to support the team stronger than ever before.

The game will be called at 3:30 p. m. Saturday.

A BIT OF ACTION

Syracuse and Pittsburgh universities battled fiercely at the Yankee Stadium, New York, with a big crowd looking on. Syracuse won 3 to 0 by kicking a field goal. This action photo of the game shows Bowman of Syracuse making a run that was good for 20 yards.

HOPES TO MAKE GOPHERS GOOD

ed by Coach Leo Novak, of the Cedar Rapids high school team to the record being made this season by his Tigers, favorites for the state prep school title, and strong contenders for national honors.

The Cedar Rapids team has made 348 points in five games—263 minutes of actual play—for an average of a point and third every minute, and lacks two points of averaging seventy points per game.

Ruth's Record Most Remarkable in Big League

New York, Oct. 25.—An analysis of the batting performance of Babe Ruth discloses that the big slugger compiled one of the most remarkable, if not the greatest record in major league history, despite the fact that he failed to lead the American League hitters and was only able to tie the Cy Williams of the Phillies, for the home run leadership, with 41 circuit blows, 18 behind the world's record he set in 1921.

The complete record of the Babe, however, and the story of his versatile greatness—the work that earned him the crown of the most valuable American League player—show him as the big star of the year.

Walked 171 Times.

Unofficial records for the 1923 season show that Babe Ruth participated in the entire schedule of the Yankees 152 games, a record in itself for Ruth. The figures also show that he was at bat 520 official times, that he scored 151 runs and made 205 safe hits, giving him a batting average of .394.

In addition to this remarkable batting average Ruth was passed by American League pitchers 171 times. If these were figured as base hits and counted in his times at bat as was done in the old American Association in 1897, they would give Ruth a total of 691 times at bat with 376 hits for a batting average of .544.

Another phase of Ruth's work as a batsman which undoubtedly created a new major league record was the number of times he reached first base during the 1923 season. In addition to his 205 hits and his 171 passes there were other times when he got on either by forcing a runner, a fielders choice, by being hit by a pitched ball or through an error.

They total show that Ruth reached first base a fraction under three times for each 1.52 games during the season.

MOONLIGHT GOLF LATEST FAD

St. Louis, Oct. 25.—Moonlight golf is the latest sport innovation here.

Several members of the North Hills county club who have been playing at night, said the only requirement was to stand still after hitting the ball so as to hear it drop.

Midirons are used on .41 shots. The other night, three moonlight players turned in scores of 53, 55 and 56, respectively for nine holes, and only one ball was lost.

LEROY HALL IN A DRAW

Sioux Falls, S. D., Oct. 25.—Roscoe Hall of Des Moines and Roscoe LeRoy, lightweights, battled ten rounds to a draw here last night in a stiff, well balanced bout as a major attraction on the Elks' bill.

Eddie DeBeau of St. Paul and Billie Petrolle of Jamestown, N. D., lightweights, also went 10 rounds to a draw. Chick Donovan of Minneapolis and Harry LeBarre of St. Paul, featherweights, went 10 rounds with the latter getting the decision.

Plan Armistice Day Celebration

Fargo, Oct. 25.—A big military parade, a program at the Auditorium with a speaker of national reputation if one can be obtained, and a dance at the Auditorium at night are among the plans of the Gilbert C. Grafton post for celebration of Armistice day on Monday, Nov. 12.

Ralph W. Keller, general chairman of the Armistice day committee, announced.

The celebration will be on Nov. 12 because the 11th falls on Sunday.

NEW BIDS FOR RIVER WORK TO BE RECEIVED

Farmers Given an Opportunity to Bid on Any Part of Rip-rapping Work

MUST ACT PROMPTLY

Bids on revetment work to be done on the Missouri river north of the Northern Pacific railroad bridge on the west bank of the river will be received again.

Bids for the work, which includes furnishing stone, brush and poles had been asked for October 22 at the United States Engineers' Office, Kansas City, Missouri. Because there was not time for farmers and others in this vicinity to submit bids to the Kansas City office all bids were rejected and the decision reached to call for new bids.

State Engineer W. G. Black, Capt. I. P. Baker and The Tribune received communications from the office of the War Department Engineers in Kansas City today announcing the new plan.

It is stated that bids will be opened at Kansas City, but that they may be sent either direct or they may be sent to Mr. Black's office and forwarded from them.

It also was stated that to give farmers the best possible opportunity to submit bids, they may bid on any part or all of the work. Proposals for submitting the bids may be secured either at the United States Engineer Office, room 707 Postal Telegraph building, Kansas City, Missouri, or from Mr. Black.

The proposed rip-rapping and other protective work on the river will cost about $75,000. The War Department Engineers, the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, the state of North Dakota and the Northern Pacific railroad will help pay the cost. The work will be done this fall and will furnish employment for many men.

BLOW FELLEDDRY-AGENT

Conclusion of Prohibition Officer Investigating Case

Minneapolis, Oct. 25.—That Albert Whitney, federal prohibition agent, was hit on the head with some blunt instrument when he was knocked unconscious during a fight with brewery raiders at New Munica a week ago, was the conclusion reached today by H. L. Duncan, division prohibition agent, on his return from an interview with Whitney in St. Cloud.

The interview with Whitney is the first possible since the prohibition agent was injured and taken to the hospital a week ago.

Whitney told the prohibition chief that he was not near the truck, had not jumped on the running board and did not know how he was hurt. Duncan said, leading him to believe that the agent's injury was the result of a blow.

Whitney is making progress toward recovery.

WOMAN STICKS TO STORY OF TWO MURDERS

Repeats Before Jury in Montana That Her Husband Was Responsible For Them

Bozeman, Mont., Oct. 25.—Efforts of defense counsel late yesterday to induce Mrs. Iva Danner, divorcee wife of Seth Danner, on trial here charged with the murder of Mrs. John Sprouse to change her testimony were unavailing. She did not deviate from her former story, which was that she had seen Danner kill the woman with an ax and that her body and that of her husband, who had been shot a short time before for the purpose of robbery, were buried near the spot where the two couples, motoring through Montana, had pitched camp.

It was Mrs. Danner who informed authorities that Sprouse and his wife had been slain.

Later she led them to the roadside grave. Danner's arrest followed. The defense also endeavored to ring an admission from Danner that Mrs. Sprouse had shot her husband after surprising him and Mrs. Danner in a compromising situation at the camp and that Mrs. Danner had then beaten Mrs. Sprouse to death with an ax. The witness reiterated that she had no part in the slaying and denied that she had ever been alone with Sprouse.

FORMER VETS BUREAU HEAD GETS CHANCE

Forbes Will Have Opportunity to Reply to Graft Charges Made Against Him

single room. 2—mf cmfsh n Washington, Oct. 25.—Having heard a rather startling story from Elias Mortimer of Philadelphia as to his relations with Charles R. Forbes, former director of the Veterans Bureau while he was seeking a contract from the bureau last year for the construction of a hospital, the senate committee investigating the bureau was in recess today until next Monday.

Before adjourning late yesterday on completion of Mortimer's testimony the committee decided to give opportunity next week to Forbes to reply to Mortimer's charges, which contain charges of intrigue, debauchery and corruption in connection with the awarding of a contract for the building of a veterans hospital at Northampton, Mass., to the Pontiac Construction company of Detroit, one of the companies represented by Mortimer.

Mr. Forbes came to Washington last Monday from Seattle where he has been undergoing treatment for a serious malady and attended the opening sessions of the hearings. On the advice of friends who are said to have urged him to conserve his strength, he has remained absent since that time.

Business men—with whom the runabout has always been very popular—are well pleased with the changes embodied in this model. Always rugged, the car has been made decidedly trimmer and more comfortable. This result is obtained by raising the radiator and enlarging the cowl, making a decided improvement in looks and providing more leg room. A well designed top and slanting windshield do their share toward adding a finished, clean-cut appearance. Make it a point to see the other new models also on display in our show room.

These cars can be obtained through the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan.
